

ENDICOTT COLLEGE

Study in

IRELAND

Summer Celtic Studies Program 2009

Innisfree International College & Convention Centre
An Oasis for Reflective Inspiration

June 6 - June 20, 2009

See what it's like to study in Ireland for two weeks this summer and earn three credits!

For more information, or to submit applications
and payment, contact:

School of International Education
Endicott College

376 Hale Street • Beverly, MA 01915
internat@endicott.edu • (978) 232 - 2272

Endicott College is accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC),

Ireland

Summer Celtic Studies Program

June 6 – June 20, 2009

Innisfree International College & Convention Centre
An Oasis for Reflective Inspiration

info@iiccc.info • Please visit www.iiccc.info for virtual tours

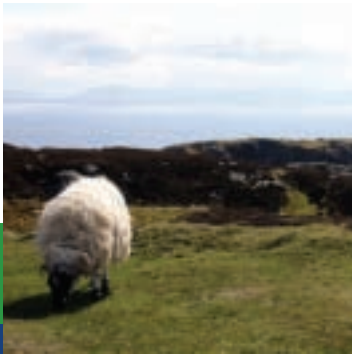

Course of Study Includes:

- Early History of Ireland
- The Archaeological Heritage of Ireland
- Irish History – Act of Union to Modern Ireland
- Modern Irish Literature
- Irish Culture and Traditions

Program Includes:

- Bus tours
- Tour of Dublin
- Beaches
- Gaelic football match
- Irish Ceili dancing lessons
- All accommodations and meals

All of this only $3,050 USD plus air fare!

LST/IST Introduction to Celtic Studies

This two-week summer intensive course, offered in Sligo, Ireland, immerses students in Irish history and culture. Classroom lectures and activities focusing on Irish history, literature, mythology, sports, music and politics are supplemented with visits to nearby literary, historical, and archaeological sites led by instructors. Course requirements include a comprehensive written exam at program's conclusion and a paper completed after returning from Ireland. See the School of International Education at Endicott College for information. This is a three credit course.

ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS NOW

Booking deposit of $350 due 3/2/09 • First payment $1,350 due 04/10/09 • Final payment $1,350 due 05/15/09

Payable to Endicott College. Email the School of International Education at Endicott College at internat@endicott.edu for more information.